Walking The Warzones Of Pakistan: One Woman's Journey Into The Shadow Of The Taliban

Synopsis

Trek to K2 and Pakistan's tribal regions bordering Afghanistan, Kashmir, Tajikistan, and China. See topography that has led to isolation-physical and cultural-of tribes blocked for centuries by natural barriers, lack of infrastructure and communication. Ruth Anne Kocour's tale of travel and adversity lends a face to today's news and a glimpse into what we all have in common-our humanity.

Customer Reviews

I felt as if I was walking along with Ruth Anne. This woman is one brave soul and can tell a story that will have you turning the pages eagerly. The descriptions of the regions she explored are wonderful and the sherpa guides are described as warm, gentle souls. I may never travel to this part of the world but I have a much better understanding of it after having read this book.

Very good!

This is a great read about an important part of the world. It is a fast moving true story that is hard to put down.

I highly recommend this book. It was an amazing journey of a very courageous author. Once I started the book I could not put it down, finishing it at 4 am.
