Family-Style Meals At The Hali'imaile General Store

Synopsis

Family-style dining is back in style and has been reimagined by one of the most prominent chefs in Hawaii, James Beard Award-nominee Beverly Gannon. On the road to Haleakala, Maui's most famous dormant volcano, is one of the island's favorite destinations--where a laid-back atmosphere and top-flight menu welcome both residents and tourists. Developed from the restaurant's ever-popular repertoire, this all-new recipe collection is scaled for sit-down family suppers, lunches, and brunches, with built-in expandability for impromptu gatherings or full-on entertaining. Ingredient substitutions are included to help move dishes from the kitchen to the table with ease, and leftovers are skillfully adapted into future meals. Recipes are organized by the days of the week, based on a schedule Gannon's mother used, and are interwoven with charming family anecdotes.

"Even if you're not from the islands, the vibrant flavors will awaken your senses."--The Food Network

* Family-style dining is back in style and has been re-imagined by one of the most prominent chefs in Hawai'i, James Beard Award nominee Beverly Gannon. * Down-to-earth recipes with a Pacific, Asian, and Southern flair combine with out-of-this-world location photography for a cookbook that a busy home cook can really use. * The Hali'imaile General Store will celebrate its 20th anniversary this October.

We enjoyed our stop for snacks at the restaurant after a day of hiking the volcano, so we went back for lunch on our way to the airport. Thankfully, our favorite dish at the restaurant is in the cookbook. Ok, I know this sounds weird...but it's Brie and Grape Quesadilla with macadamia nut pesto and green pea guacamole. The flavors are nutty, creamy, green, tart, sweet and savory. Genius. My husband said my rendition was even better than the restaurant. I don't even like peas, but I thought it was good, too. We finished a batch with 2 cups of peas with dinner. It's a great vegetarian dish and it could even work for a party. I eat seafood/fish but my husband is vegetarian, so I'm not sure how many entrees I'll actually make. Some of the other recipes that sound interesting: Butternut Squash Soup with Coconut & Ginger, Lemongrass Gazpacho, Warm Goat Cheese Tart, Cauliflower Soup, Huevos Rancheros, Shiitake Mushroom Bread pudding, and Truffle Macaroni and Cheese. The recipes have just a little Maui flair. There is a good variety. I just wish it had the famous crab pizza and Mai Tai. I don't think we'll go back to Maui for awhile (we like Kauai much better), but we can go back virtually with recipes from the General Store.

I purchased this cookbook to pull Hawaiian recipes for a "gourmet" dinner coming up later in the year. I've already made two recipes for other occasions and both were terrific. Not only is this a beautiful cookbook, the recipes are easy to follow with explicit instructions and cooking/serving tips. We're headed to Maui in October and we're definitely going to the General Store for lunch or dinner - maybe more than once!

I was so excited to see the recipes from this wonderful restaurant were available to make. I thoroughly enjoyed our meal at the restaurant and would recommend it as one of the best on Maui.

have dined at "the Store" and this book is simply a wonderful collection of recipeis and other information. By the way, "The Store" has the GREATEST MAI TAI EVER--GO TRY IT.

I love this book. I made the enchilada casserole for a pot luck and will say the instructions are easy to follow. The resulting casserole was a winner. The photography was so beautiful, too! I hope a third book is in the works.

This is one of our favorite restaurants on Maui and this cookbook does not disappoint. The chili, pineapple upside down cake and the butternut squash soup are all terrific!

Amazing recipes! Takes you back to the restaurant/Island.

Maybe I just expected more but this book looked more like a commercial for the restaurant and chef. I will probably try the recipes and eat at the restaurant someday since some of them sound delicious.
