Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

Given the map is of the "Allagash River Waterway", I found it intriguing that it was blown up to the point where there was a requirement to purchase two separate maps. The sheer size of each required constant adjustment if one used a waterproof case (which is common on a canoeing trip) in order to prove useful during the day. I would have happily paid more for a more appropriately sized map as the map quality was good, accurate and extremely useful.

Nice map, and readable. Scale is 1:62400 with a UTM grid. I just used it on a river trip and I did find some accuracy issues. Most notable was the it showed a couple wilderness campsites that have since been removed (or at least they're not on the AWW map or North Maine Woods campsite list).

Don't hesitate..if you are going to do any canoeing on the Allagash.....GET THIS!! I went on a 4 day canoe trip with 7 others and it was fantastic! It held up to the water and abuse and made it very handy and easy to approximate where we were and what was ahead.

Nice map showed me what I needed and it is water proof... which is important on a canoe trip

Loved the maps and used them in the field.

Thank you

a good durable map
