Synopsis

“The City of London Round St Paul’s Cathedral” is a travel guidebook designed for visitors to St Paul’s who are also curious about what else there is to see nearby. Within a ten minute walk of the cathedral there’s a medieval town hall, the remains of a Roman amphitheatre, lots of charming alleyways, courtyards and small gardens, nice places to dine and for culture vultures an art gallery and museums. The City is one of London’s most historic areas and certainly fits a lot into a small space. Disabled accessibility is key feature of the guide. The majority of the places featured have good facilities and accessible information is provided under each entry. The writing is accompanied with 24 photos showcasing the places listed. With insiders’ tips and personal recommendations for places to eat and drink. The guide encourages visitors to explore and experience the uniqueness of the City for themselves. This is the first in the series of “Tina Walks London” Travel Guides which aims to offer something a little different from the usual travel books. Tina Hodgkinson, a qualified City of London tour guide, has drawn on her knowledge and experience, to create a range of travel books. Each book focuses on a different area of London in depth, and featuring not just its key sights but also the less well known and quirkier attractions, which don’t feature in regular guide books. Please note that this Kindle book does not contain maps, however full address details including postcode/zip code are provided for each entry.
